

Monte Carlo Modeling Agency

Jim Otar

Humour Department

Background

- The other day, I was talking to an academic.
- He said that we should start a modeling agency.
- He suggested we call our new enterprise the “Monte Carlo Modeling Agency”

Background

- That day, I had nothing better to do.
- I said “Okay”.
- He said that we should start working on me as a test case.
- I said “Okay”.

This is me (a few years back):
The Raw Data

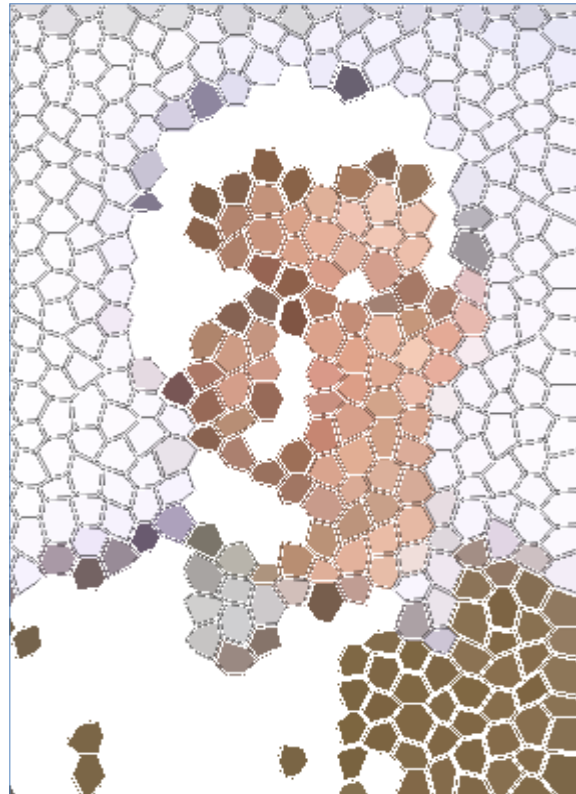

This is me:
After Sampling the Raw Data
to Fit the Model

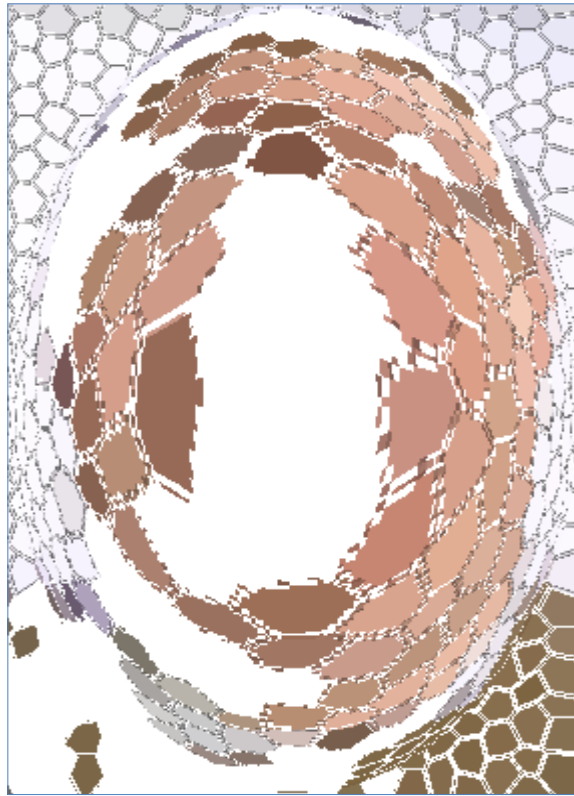

This is me:
After Filtering the Data

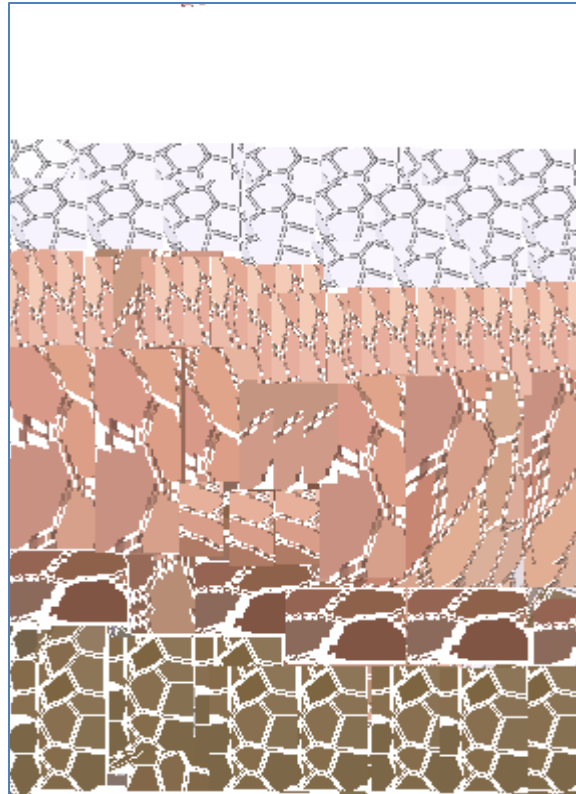

This is me:
After Eliminating the Extremes

This is me:
After Adding the Fat Tails

Finally, this is me:
After ranking the results

Comparing Me and the Model:

Me: Correct sequencing

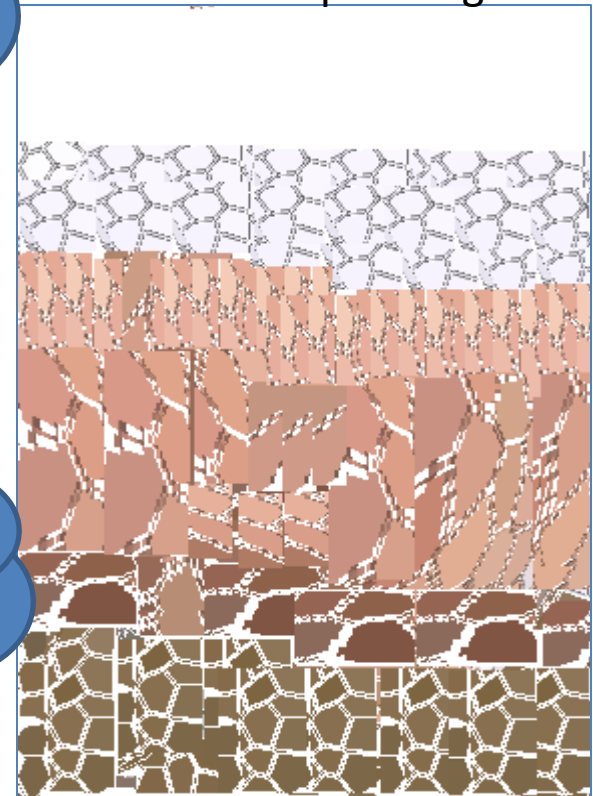

My academic friend says: "Gee, it looks just like you Jim!"

To which I replied: "Really! Thank you"

Me: randomized and ranked sequencing

The Ending

- Needless to say, this modeling agency idea ended as fast as started!
